TOWN ORDER.

AN ORDINANCE FOR THE PRESERVATION of the peace, morals, comfort and health of the citizens of Reno. The Board of Commissioners of Washoe county do ordain

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any boy or girl under sixteen years to be or remain upon the streets or sidewalks, or in any public place in Reno, Nevada, after the hour of eight o'clock p. m. except that such boy or girl be in the necessary or actual discharge of duties, services or errands required of him or her by his or her parent, guardian or employer, or be returning home in a quick and orderly manner, without undue loitering or delay, from such visit or place of amusement as he or she may have gone to with the consent of his or her parent, guardian or employer.

Section 2. It is hereby made the duty of the Constable of Reno Township to cause the bell of the Reno Engine House to be sounded eight times on each and every evening of the week at the hour of eight o'clock.

Section 3. TOWN AND COUNTY.

BREVITIES.
Read the new advertisements this morning.
Jas. T. Davis, of the Mound House, is in town.
Calvin Hall, formerly of Reno, died at Chico on Thursday.
The Directors of the Agricultural Society will have a meeting to-day.
Carriage painting at the Studobaker Carriage Repository. See 50 ct. column.
Mrs. Alt's regular dances at Armory Hall to-night. Good music and a jolly time.
Director Dangberg came in from Douglas last evening to attend to State Fair matters to-day.
Conductor Joseph McCormack, of the V. & T., is quite ill, and Charley Blethen is running the train.
Fred Livingston died in the Asylum yesterday of paralysis. He was committed from Virginia a year ago.
John Sunderland will return home this morning. It is altogether probable that Mrs. Sunderland's funeral will take place to-morrow.
The Nevada Siamese twins, the renowned Boskowitz Brothers, walked down from Truckee last night, and will swing around the circle again in time to exhibit themselves here at the State Fair.
Henry F. Donovan, Superintendent of Letter Carriers in Chicago, at a mass meeting of the Young Democracy Tuesday night, tendered his resignation as President of that organization. In doing so he said that although the Postmaster-General had decided that in holding such office he did not infringe any civil service law, the amount of adverse criticism to which he had been subjected in accepting the position made it seem advisable for him to resign.
"The Wages of Sin."
The San Francisco Post says: "A powerful melodrama bearing the above title was produced at the Baldwin Theatre last night, for the first time in San Francisco, and was received with every evidence of approval by a large audience. The work is of the intense melodramatic quality, possesses an interesting story, which is well told, exhibits remarkable constructive ability, abounds in entertaining incidents, shows many excellent types of character, and altogether is a play which will unquestionably have a successful run at this theatre. The story deals with the trials and sufferings of a woman, who married one man by reason of a lie while she loved another. The villain in the piece gets the wages of sin, while the others are rewarded with happiness after a series of misfortunes and disappointments that are almost appalling. The caste was excellent, and the acting was capital."
The New University Building.
The Enterprise says Barke Brothers, the contractors for the new University building at Reno, are making excellent progress in the work. Yesterday the bricklayers began operations on the second story. On account of the beauty and elevation of the site and attractive proportions of the building the latter is rapidly looming up a conspicuous and handsome landmark. The very best material is being used in its construction, and the workmanship throughout is of a high order. The contractors are themselves hard-working men, and have been putting in some particularly hard work to avoid losing money on their bid. The University building when completed will be an ornament for Reno and a credit to the State. M. J. Curtis, the architect, is giving his personal supervision to all the details of construction.
The Hart Case.
A jury was not obtained yesterday in the Hart case, and a special venire for fifty jurors was issued, returnable this afternoon at 3 o'clock. There are eleven jurors now in the box and there are eleven challenges yet to be exercised.

ANGORA GOATS.
What an Experienced Mohair Grower Says of the Industry.
C. P. Bailey, who has an Angora goat ranch near Battle Mountain, writes the Texas Live Stock Journal as article on Angora goats and their fleeces from which we extract the following:
This season I sheared about 5,000 head of goats and shipped a little 20,000 pounds of mohair to William McNaughton's sons, commission merchants of New York City. They made the following returns, July 31, 1885:
60 pounds at 55c.....$ 33 00
161 " at 45c..... 72 45
4,732 " at 45c..... 1,987 44
4,824 " at 40c..... 1,846 60
7,764 " at 38c..... 2,950 32
495 " at 35c..... 174 25
65 " at 30c..... 19 50
18,041 pounds $7,082 50
Though these prices are much lower than those received for mohair in former years; yet, when compared with present prices received for sheep's wool, they are not so discouraging.
The low price of mohair during the past four years has encouraged the establishment of new machinery for working it. The articles into which it is manufactured are more varied, and now there is not a tenth part as much mohair produced in America as American manufacturers can use.
Though I consider four pounds a good average clip for a mixed flock of pure breeds or high grades, I have no doubt that there may be selected flocks of high grade wethers that will average from seven to nine pounds, and if well kept will continue to yield their heavy fleeces until they are ten or twelve years old.
Mines Closing Down.
The Manhattan Company, at Austin, have stopped work in the Ruby incline, throwing twenty men out of employment, and it is said the Paxton mine will also be shut down. The Revell says the company does not feel like prospecting until the suit for $5,000,000 now pending is decided. As soon as one now at the Grand Prize mill is worked, and a clean-up made, which will probably consume nearly a week longer, says Friday's Times-Review, the mill will be shut down for an indefinite period. Stopping in the mine has already been discontinued and a large number of men let off, the work now being confined to prospecting on the east lateral vein. The ore extracted of late has been of too low grade to pay working expenses, together with the heavy discount on bullion and charges for transportation. Tascorora will be a very dull camp for several months to come.
Emma Nevada's Marriage.
M'Nile Nevada was married at Paris yesterday to Dr. Raymond Palmer, of Birmingham, England. The civil service took place at the English Embassy, and the religious ceremonies at the church of the Passionists Fathers. The bridesmaids were Misses Morris, Johnston, Everest and Tatt, of America. Salveni, the Italian tragedian, was "best man." The attendance was large, and the American, English and Parisian fashionable society was well represented. The occasion was marked by much enthusiasm, and the display of flowers and elegant costumes lent an air of gayety to the scene.
The Regent Land Matter.
One of the editors of the Times-Review recently met Regent J. H. Rand in San Francisco. That gentleman states that he did not favor the action of the Board in raising the price of State land, but seeing the other members had fully determined upon pursuing that course, he made no active opposition and did not vote upon the proposition. He is of the opinion that the discussion of the matter by the press and the almost unanimous opposition of the people, together with the stoppage of State Land entries under the order will cause its rescinding at the next meeting of the Board.
Special Train.
During Fair week the V. & T. R. R. Company will run a special train, leaving Virginia City in the morning and returning in the evening. Fare for the round trip, $2 50. Due notice will be given of the time of starting, and also the time and fare from the different points along the line of the road.

Of Interest to Nevada Ladies.
The Carson Index says:
Mrs. Judge Leonard has kindly communicated to the Daily Index some items of interest concerning the coming State Fair at Reno. The Ladies Art and Industrial Association of Nevada have been courteously allowed a choice of position and space at the Pavilion and propose to more than repeat the handsome display which was so attractive at New Orleans. Mrs. Leonard, who is President of the Association, informs us that a lady will be deputed to attend the Pavilion during the week of the Fair, and take charge of and be responsible for every article which shall be forwarded from any portion of our State for display. The lady agent will be in Reno a day or two before the Fair begins, or on October 10th.
It is now to be hoped that within the next ten days the ladies throughout our State will prepare and forward to the care of Ladies Art and Industrial Association at the State Fair in Reno any and all articles of art, fancy work or utility which they may deem worthy of exhibition. Perfect care will be taken of the articles and they will be safely returned at the close of the Fair to the respective owners. Let the exhibit, if possible, outshine anything of the kind ever known on the Pacific Coast. Nevada is singularly rich in articles of beauty and merit for such a display, and co-operation of the ladies in this respect cannot but prove a grand success. We will give further particulars as we receive them.
The Ladies of the Art Association earnestly request the Nevada papers, especially the Enterprise, Chronicle, Journal and Gazette to copy the foregoing and give as much publicity to their proposed exhibit as possible.
The Hero's Welcome.
At Davis' cigar store in the Postoffice building can be seen a photograph that is a copy of Homer Handerson's famous allegorical painting, valued at five thousand dollars. While all hearts mourn our country's loss in the death of Gen. U. S. Grant, the artist here endeavors to relieve the general sorrow by portraying our Hero's welcome in the Land Beyond. Columbia weeps o'er the grave on earth, but the redeemed, led by the Angel of Peace bearing the crown of victory, come to usher him across the dark river into the realms of eternal bliss. Lincoln and Garfield, with an angel escort, have been awaiting him upon the other shore, and thus are the first to welcome America's greatest Ambassador to the Celestial world. Among the great departed may be recognized Washington, Jefferson, Franklin, Adams, Webster, Jackson, Clay, Douglas, Sumner and Lafayette, who hasten with rejoicing to the scene. Thus the great soldier, the pure statesman, the calm spirit, who, though nurtured in poverty and obscurity, yet became the honored companion of Emperors and Kings, now enters the Elysian abode of all the good and great.
The announcement that R. Salter was dead is, the JOURNAL is glad to know, unfounded. On the contrary his health is better and he will return from California next week. The JOURNAL's item was given it by Jerry Schooling, who was informed of it by Pat Henry. It was a mistake all around.
